Winter Storm Mateo Hits Central Region, Restricting Air and Inland Traffic

Winter Storm Mateo will overtake much of the central region between Iowa to Ontario, which has in turn created traffic disruptions across major cities including Chicago and Detroit. Chicago's O'Hare International Airport (ORD) has faced delays since as long as three days ago from the onset of the storm, and with the heaviest rate of snow predicted to fall in the next 24 hours, perishable shipments, including temperature controlled shipments, will be restricted to, from, and through ORD through February 9.

Slippery roads and reduced visibility caused by the sleet and snowfall may impede trucking through central and eastern corridors. Over 400 hundred flights have been cancelled for Friday due to Mateo.
